Today's liturgy encourages us to believe that with Christ a new age has been set in motion that offers hope to people. All three readings speak of such new beginnings.

Isaiah 35: 1 – 6 With poetic imagery, Isaiah speaks of the desert blooming, and the sick and the feeble, the lame and the blind being cured and of the great rejoicing that the new age will usher in. Joy and gladness will replace the sorrow and lament of past ages.

James 5: 7-10 The Christian community to whom St. James was writing was under pressure from persecution and inner dissension. He tells them that they must be patient; that the new age of Christ will not happen overnight, and certainly not without intense opposition. And he was reflecting the belief held by many at the time that the end of the world, the second coming of Christ, was imminent.

Matthew 11: 2 – 11 With John the Baptist's arrest, his followers were confused; John had denied that he was the Messiah and so interest now centred on the new face on the block - Jesus. Jesus confirms what John had said - the new age was beginning even as they spoke and the prophecies of Isaiah were being fulfilled as the blind, the lame, the sick and the deaf were healed.

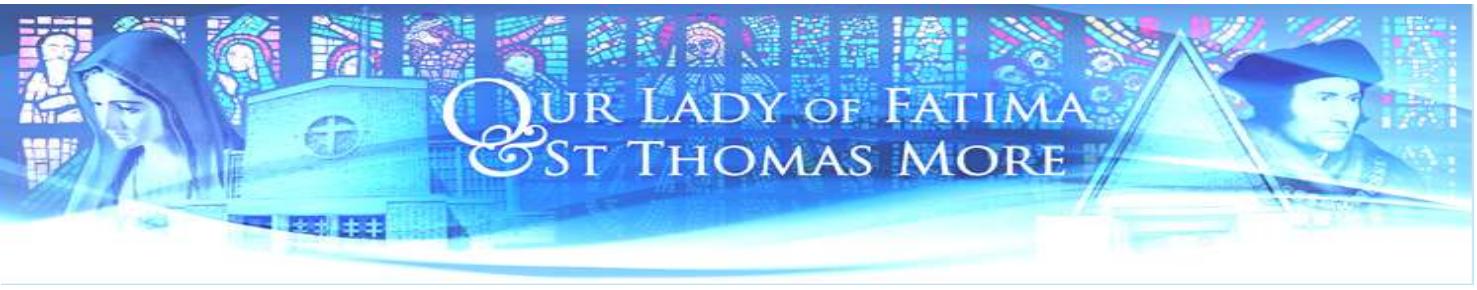

Prayer for Lighting the Third Candle - Joy: "Gracious God, as we light the third Advent candle of joy, may the joy of your salvation fill us with gladness. Help us to share this joy with others, especially those in need. In Jesus' name, we pray. Amen."

What is Advent?

Advent is a season in the Church's life intended to renew the experience of waiting, and longing, for the Messiah. Though Christ has already come into the world, the Church invites us to renew our desire for the Lord more deeply into our lives, and to renew our desire for Christ's triumphant second coming into the world.

The Catechism of the Catholic Church says the goal of Advent is to make present for ourselves and our families the "ancient expectancy of the Messiah...by sharing in the long preparation for the Savior's first coming."

What does the word Advent mean?

Advent comes from the Latin ad+venire, which means, essentially "To come to," or "to come toward." Ad+venire is the root of the Latin "Adventus" which means "arrival."

So, Advent is the season of arrival: The arrival of Christ in our hearts, in the world, and into God's extraordinary plan for our salvation.

Is Advent the "new year"?

Advent is before Christmas. What's the deal?

The Church's feasts and celebrations run on a year-long cycle, which we call the "liturgical year." The "liturgical year" starts on the first Sunday of Advent. So, it's a new liturgical year when Advent starts.

Advent wreaths.

Where do they come from? Is it true that they're just pagan wreaths borrowed by the Church?

The Catholic Church has been using advent wreaths since the Middle Ages. Lighting candles as we prepare for Christmas reminds us that Christ is the light of the world. And the evergreen boughs remind us of new and eternal life in Christ, the eternal son of the Father.

It is definitely true that Germanic people were lighting up candle wreaths in wintertime long before the Gospel arrived in their homeland. They did so because, well, candle wreaths in winter are beautiful and warm. That a Christian symbol emerged from that tradition is an indication that the Gospel can be expressed through the language, customs, and symbols of cultures that come to believe that Christ Jesus is Lord.

One candle is pink. Why?

There are four candles on the Advent wreath. Three are purple, and they are first lit on the first, second, and fourth Sundays of Advent. The pink candle is lit on the third Sunday of Advent, which we call Gaudete Sunday. On that Sunday, in addition to the pink candle, the priest wears a pink vestment, which he might refer to as rose. But rose, from this writer's perspective, is a shade of pink.

Gaudete is a word that means "Rejoice!" and we rejoice on Gaudete Sunday, because we are halfway through Advent. The three purple candles are sometimes said to represent prayer, fasting, and almsgiving, the three spiritual disciplines that are key to a fruitful Advent.
