FIRST READING

Ben Sirach presented his readers (and us) a choice. In a society with competing cultures, do we choose the popular or the pious, the relevant or the eternal?

PSALM

Psalm 119, the longest psalm in the Bible, was a song of the individual. It was a hymn that sought God's will over all else.

SECOND READING

St. Paul wrote the Corinthians about the superiority of God's wisdom, even over that of the aged.

GOSPEL

In Matthew 5, Jesus commented on the Law in an original way. He interpreted the Law with an eye for the Kingdom.

What Is Lent?

Lent is the penitential season of forty days, not counting Sundays, which begins on Ash Wednesday and ends on Holy Saturday. It is set aside by the Church in order for the faithful to prepare for the celebration of the Lord's Passion, Death and Resurrection. His victory is our renewal, our "spring" — which is the meaning of the Anglo-Saxon word, "lengten" or Lent and refers to the lengthening days of spring.

Historically, Lent began as a period of fasting and preparation for baptism by converts and then became a time for penance by all Christians. The First Sunday describes Jesus' temptation by Satan; and the Sixth Sunday (Passion/Palm Sunday), Christ's triumphal entry into Jerusalem and his subsequent passion and death. Note that the readings during Lent, until Passion/Palm Sunday, focus primarily on the meaning of baptism and discipleship. Because Sundays are always little Easters, the penitential spirit of Lent should be tempered with joyful expectation of the Resurrection.

Holy Week is the final week of Lent, beginning with Passion/Palm Sunday and concluding with Holy Saturday. It is during these days that the readings focus primarily on the last days and suffering and death of Jesus.

The Great Three Days—sometimes called the Triduum or Pasch—from sunset Holy Thursday through sunset Easter Day are the climax of Lent (and of the whole Christian year) and a bridge into the Easter Season. These days proclaim the paschal mystery of Jesus Christ's passion, death, and resurrection. During these days, the community journeys with Jesus from the upper room, to the cross, to the tomb, and to the garden. These services may be connected with a prayer vigil lasting from Holy Thursday evening (or Good Friday) until the first service of Easter and may be accompanied by fasting.

Sombre colours such as purple or ash gray are most appropriate for Lent. Shiny objects and flowers removed from the worship area.

The Stations of the Cross, also known as Way of the Cross, is a 14-step Catholic devotion commemorating Jesus Christ's final day on Earth, focusing on His Passion and death. It is commonly observed during Lent on Fridays and Good Friday, where Christians pray at each station, typically represented by artwork in churches. The Stations of the Cross is one of the simplest, yet powerful, ways to prayerfully walk alongside Jesus.

Our journey through Lent can be compared to the Exodus of the Hebrew people from Egypt to the Promised Land. It can be a season of grace — not an abstract journey, but a concrete path that involves seeing the world as it is.

Our Lenten journey will be concrete if we realize that even today we remain under the rule of Pharaoh (slavery). A rule that makes us weary and indifferent. It divides us and robs us of our future. There remains within us desire to cling to idols that paralyse us, as Israel was paralysed in the desert.

Lent, however, is a "season of grace, a time of conversion," where the desert can become "a place where our freedom can mature in a personal decision not to fall back into slavery.
